SEEING IS BELIEVING

Reflecting on Achievements of 2012

This spring, SPH Foundation will celebrate several significant donations in support of our digital transmission electron microscope fund raising initiative. Our goal was to raise $1.4 million to purchase and install Saskatchewan's only digital electron microscope at St. Paul's Hospital. I am pleased to report that we have received tremendous support from donors in Saskatoon and across Saskatchewan. The Saskatoon Health Region has now selected the microscope manufacturer and installation is expected to be complete by June of 2013. We look forward to celebrating the grand opening with our donors later this year.

I would like to look back for a moment on 2012. The year was punctuated by a number of wonderful achievements. SPH completed renovations of the Rawlco Radio Surgical Unit and the Leslie and Irene Dubé Urology Centre of Health Ambulatory Unit. These two achievements fulfilled our commitments to Embracing the Future campaign donors. We will officially celebrate the grand opening of the Dubé Urology Centre of Health Ambulatory Unit later this spring.

Raising the money for building Saskatoon's first palliative care hospice continues to be a priority for SPH Foundation. The Saskatoon Health Region and St. Paul's Hospital are currently consulting with community stakeholders, creating the model of care and developing the plan for this hospice. It is SPH Foundation's hope that we will receive approval to begin our hospice fund raising in 2013. We know Saskatoon and area residents would benefit immensely from a palliative care hospice.

Donors and volunteers are the lifeblood of SPH Foundation. Any success we enjoy is due entirely to your commitment to St. Paul's Hospital. Thank you from the bottom of my heart for everything you contribute.

THE GREAT REVEAL

Diagnostic Tools for Superior Imaging

Whether a patient arrives at St. Paul's Diagnostic Imaging Unit seeking to have their disease revealed, diagnosed, or examined, often the same emotions are involved – eagerness to get in for testing, and then anxiety, waiting on results. Reduced wait times; superior imaging capability; increased physician confidence in diagnosis: all are critical elements when potentially life-altering patient information hangs in the balance.

In solving the mysteries that our health can often pose, Diagnostic Imaging and Nuclear Medicine plays a key role in the utilization of technology by providing detailed images of our internal parts which when analysed can help identify any underlying medical condition and advance a treatment plan.

St. Paul's Diagnostic Imaging department houses suites for the MRI, CT, Angiography and Nuclear Medicine – all equipment and techniques that can create pictures of the structures and activities inside your body to assist in the investigative process. Open 24 hours, seven days a week, the demand for imaging services offered at St. Paul's continues to rise, serving patients from across the Saskatoon Health Region.

A graduate of the U of S College of Medicine, Dr. Chris Wall completed his fellowship in Australia, returning to Saskatoon and St. Paul's Hospital in 2009. One of three full-time radiologists at St. Paul's, he shares his time between performing procedures in the Angio Suite, and interpreting MRI and CT imagery.

"Our Angio Suite allows Interventional Radiologists to perform minimally invasive procedures using real-time x-ray guidelines," says Dr. Wall. "St. Paul's Angiography Suite is now one of the best in Canada."

"We continue to investigate opportunities to ensure patients have access here in Saskatoon to sophisticated technologies that are able to provide the most accurate and essential information for diagnosis and treatment that is standard for health care in the 21st century."

Dr. Chris Wall, Interventional Radiologist, St. Paul's Hospital

In 2013 St. Paul's Hospital Foundation is raising funds to acquire the best molecular imaging equipment available in Canada – for right here at SPH – providing physicians and surgeons with a superior form of diagnostic tool to ensure patients timely, accurate and definitive diagnosis of their condition.

A first for the Saskatoon Health Region, this $2.3 million project (equipment and renovation) will house molecular imaging equipment (SPECT-CT), that combines the best of a gamma camera and a CT into one device, enabling visual certainty and detail in identifying location while simultaneously assessing how things are functioning internally. This equipment provides proven advantages for those suffering from diabetes, cancers (including bone, breast, prostate and thyroid) and brain, nasal and oral tumours, along with superior benefits in infection imaging.

"We see equipment like SPECT-CT as an integral part of the molecular imaging toolbox, helping us in the discovery process and serving as a valuable key to improved patient management." Dr. Edward Lee BSc, MD CM, MBA, Radiologist, Nuclear Medicine Physician, SHR

BEHIND THE CURTAIN

Donor Tour

On October 12, SPH Foundation held its first "Behind the Curtain" Donor Tour. The evening offered a rare opportunity to go behind the scenes in St. Paul's Hospital Diagnostic Imaging and Nuclear Medicine department.

Interventional radiologists Dr. Bruce Berscheid and Dr. Chris Wall, along with SPH Diagnostic Imaging staff, provided insight into the unit and its superb diagnostic tools –

MRI, CT, angiography, lithotripsy and the nuclear medicine gamma camera. The knowledge relayed by our Interventional Radiologists, specialists and technicians in Diagnostic Imaging – in such an interesting manner – and combined with their friendly demeanour – certainly won over our evening guests! We were able to share what technology here at St. Paul's can accomplish when complemented by our skilled and passionate specialists.

Thank you to all the donors who attended and our sincere appreciation to all Diagnostic Imaging staff who generously gave of their time to support the evening.

INSPIRED TO GIVE

Terry and Denis Sirois recognize that waiting on a diagnosis can be one of the most difficult challenges for patients and their families. When they read about the difference having a digital electron microscope for the province at St. Paul's would have on dramatically advancing diagnosis, they stepped up.

The Sirois generously donated over $85,000 in shares to St. Paul's Hospital through the Foundation, to assist in the acquisition of the digital transmission electron microscope. "We believe it's important to help ensure our local hospitals are equipped with the best equipment and medical professionals to treat patients," says Terry Sirois.

Terry joined the St. Paul's Hospital Foundation Major Gifts Committee in 2012, as another avenue to help encourage support for improved health care, specifically with initiatives through St. Paul's. She explains, "If there are ways I can help, I am more than willing to do so."

Denis Sirois is an executive with PotashCorp, an organization that encourages its staff to be positive corporate citizens. "I definitely want to give back to the province, as I am appreciative of what we have received living in Saskatoon," says Denis.

"When you are passionate about a project or initiative, you cannot help but be enthusiastic, and hopefully our beliefs in supporting St. Paul's will be contagious!" adds Terry. "We are a Catholic family, so we value the spiritual component incorporated at St. Paul's Hospital. We have been blessed with good health, but want to be proactive and ensure access to the best health care for our children and generations to come."

RBC SUPPORTS SPH HEALING ARTS

RBC Foundation®

RBC Foundation has generously committed $20,000 to St. Paul's Hospital's Healing Arts Program.

In keeping with our Hospital's mission to provide a more humanized, whole person approach and experience in health care, St. Paul's Healing Arts Program was formally created in 2005 with support through St. Paul's Hospital Foundation. The program's goal is to foster the spiritual and emotional health and well-being of patients, families and caregivers through the creative arts.

The Artist in Residence and artist volunteers facilitate arts activities with patients at the bedside and through the use of the mobile

Drop in Art Studio. Patients are given art supplies, provided with basic instruction and encouraged to create art in a healing and supportive environment. Besides visual art, activities also include poetry, written word and musical performances (a music therapist was added in 2012) both in various gathering areas on patient floors and also one-on-one.

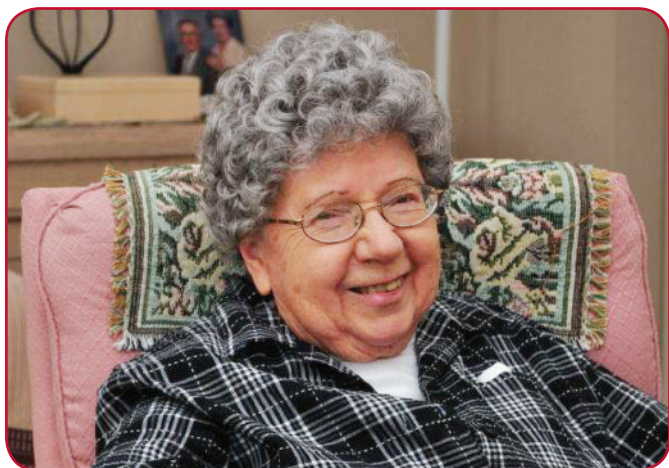

The SPH Healing Arts Program works on building positive collaborative partnerships with community organizations with special focus on at-risk youth in the vicinity of St. Paul's Hospital. Youth come to participate at SPH to paint and connect with patients and caregivers. This partnership allows for youth in our core neighbourhood to feel a connection to SPH, to build personal self-esteem and to actively participate in building community safety, ownership and respect for all.

"RBC is passionate about helping our communities. Making a lasting social impact through inspired, responsible giving and by building strong partnerships is a primary focus for us, so we are happy to support St. Paul's Healing Arts Program," says Glenn Sinden, RBC's Regional Vice President, Saskatoon.

Thank you RBC, for supporting this valuable initiative.

LEAVING A LEGACY

BETTY AUCKLAND

Described by friends as “a proper English woman”, Betty Auckland was raised in urban England then brought to Saskatchewan as a war bride after WWII. The young teacher settled with her husband, Charlie, in Gledhow, south of Saskatoon. Upon her arrival in the midst of a prairie winter and having to cope without many of the basic amenities including electricity, Canada and specifically Saskatchewan, at first must have seemed very primitive indeed for this young lady.

However, eventually there were fond memories, many of those including the camaraderie of her friend from England; who married her husband’s brother Alex; and also chose to settle in Saskatchewan. Social activities high on the list included dancing, and Betty and Charlie were eager to participate in local activities, soon becoming skilled square dancers.

After farming for many years in Saskatchewan, the Aucklands gave up the cold Saskatchewan winters for the warmth of Arizona. Charlie’s lengthy illness precipitated a move to The Franklin in Saskatoon for their retirement years.

Betty passed away at St. Paul’s Hospital in January 2012 at the age of 92. Her estate reflected her generosity and concern for health care in our community and beyond, leaving an extraordinary gift of $100,000 to support St. Paul’s Hospital’s greatest areas of need.

St. Paul’s Hospital Foundation is humbled and most appreciative of the legacy Betty Auckland has provided, which is certain to make a difference in the lives of many patients and their families across Saskatchewan.

COURTNEY MILNE

A new wall mural was installed in 2012 adjacent to St. Paul’s Tim Hortons seating area. The 13 by 6 foot reproduction of well-known local photographer Courtney Milne’s photograph entitled “Harmony” is sure to provide calm and inspiration to families, patients and staff at St. Paul’s Hospital.

Courtney Milne passed away in 2010. He was not only a master photographer – he was also an artist, author, educator, keynote speaker, and philanthropist. His career took him on global journeys that spanned all seven continents. He published 12 books of photography; including The Sacred Earth, which carries a foreword by His Holiness, The Dalai Lama. Milne’s multi-media shows have attracted audiences worldwide, and his photographs have been shown in more than 200 exhibitions. His limited edition collections are held by more than 25 galleries, museums and universities. (www.courtneymilne.com)

Courtney Milne’s widow, Sherrill Miller, generously agreed to donate the reproduction costs associated with the use of one of Courtney’s images, used in this grand scale at St. Paul’s.

The pool of water and surrounding tree in the image had great impact on Courtney. In his commentary on the photographs in his Pool of Possibilities e-calendar, he remarks that “Today the pool offers a safe haven, a place to be more closely connected to nature, a site where I can be in accord with all that surrounds me.”

“Courtney always hoped his images would be inspiring and healing to others, so I know he would be thrilled to see ‘Harmony’ in such splendour in the hospital foyer,” says Sherrill Miller.

Thank you, Sherrill and Courtney, for letting our patients, families and staff share in the inspiring emotions this image evokes.

RAWLCO RADIO SURGICAL UNIT GRAND OPENING

A major goal of St. Paul's Hospital Foundation Embracing the Future campaign was to establish the Leslie and Irene Dubé Urology Centre of Health at St. Paul's Hospital, promising the best detection and treatment options available for an increasing number of patients from Saskatoon and across Saskatchewan with prostate cancer and other urological diseases.

September 12, 2012, an event was held at St. Paul's to celebrate the opening of a state-of-the-art 18-bed surgical unit serving as an essential component of the Leslie and Irene Dubé Urology Centre of Health. Many special guests were in attendance including Leslie and Irene Dubé, Rawlco Radio representatives and other donors whose great levels of generosity are recognized with room and area naming within the unit.

The $6.5 million renovation and construction project was funded through the Saskatchewan government with $1.8 million in support from St. Paul's Hospital Foundation's Embracing the Future campaign including $1 million from Gordon and Doug Rawlinson and Rawlco radio.

Surgery 4B was officially named the Rawlco Radio Surgical Unit, in recognition of the extraordinary support granted St. Paul's Hospital by the Rawlinsons and Rawlco Radio to help meet the goals of the SPH Foundation's campaign and support the vision of the Leslie and Irene Dubé Urology Centre of Health.

The new 18-bed Rawlco Radio Surgical Unit puts patients first by supporting faster access to surgical services. The unit will increase capacity at St. Paul's Hospital for additional urology, plastics and ear, nose and throat in-patient surgery. These extra surgical recovery beds will get the Region much closer to its goal of providing all surgeries within three months by 2014.

The new unit design is based upon current standards for infection control and safety and includes all single-patient rooms with wheelchair-accessible washrooms and patient lifts in each room as well as a negative pressure room. There are also three modular nursing stations, isolation capacity and advanced technology to support patient safety and improved communication processes. Patients treated post-prostate and other urological surgeries will be cared for on this unit.

The second component of the Leslie and Irene Dubé Urology Centre of Health – the main floor ambulatory care unit – just completed in January 2013, offers additional patient resources, consult rooms, research area and exam rooms, to better serve patients and families facing these difficult health challenges.

Thank you to everyone who has supported the Urology Centre of Health, ensuring that St. Paul's continues to best meet the health care needs of our community and beyond.

Drs. Ivan Jen and Susanne Yip tour new surgical unit and patient room named in their honour.

THANK YOU NOTES

A Collection of Patient, Family and Staff Thank You's

With sincere gratitude to ER staff, especially Nurse Vanessa, ER doctor John and surgeon Dr. Groot. And of course the OR nurse who held me in her arms and recited with me the 23rd Psalm.

Always have great praise and thoughts for St. Paul's Hospital as my husband had many stops there before passing away.

Jean T.

I'm 93 years old now, and am reminded of times as a young boy waiting outside St. Paul's Hospital, while my Dad went in to visit the sick, as he was a pastor as well as a farmer. St. Paul's has a warm place in our hearts. Thank you for the many years of service in the community.

David L.

I hope to spend my last days in your very special palliative care unit.

Janet R.

Thank you to the Foundation for making this wonderful learning experience financially possible. I now have a better understanding of what patients with bladder cancer go through physically and psychologically before we even see them as well as after they go home.

Kristeen S.

Thank you for providing funding for me to attend the recent Urological Conference of Excellence. It broadened my knowledge and will allow me to expand on my ability to provide holistic, patient-centered care.

for supporting St. Paul's Hospital Gift Shop.

All proceeds go to St. Paul's Hospital Foundation to help purchase medical equipment, furnishings essential to patient care and to fund special programs designed to best meet our patients needs.

SPH PATIENT REQUEST

Versa Beds provide many valuable features for our patients in the critical care units at St. Paul's Hospital, including a built-in weigh scale to ensure these patients receive the appropriate medication dosage, when confined to their bed.

Two of these beds are urgently required. Their cost is $16,178 each.

HERE TO HELP

Volunteer Joe LaPointe

He grew up in the neighbourhood, attended St. Mary's school; and as a 15-year-old boy, spent two weeks in St. Paul's Hospital with a broken leg resulting from a football game. This was Joe LaPointe's first real introduction to St. Paul's, and he still fondly recalls how the nurses went above and beyond to ensure he received compassionate care.

Joe joined St. Paul's Hospital Foundation Board in the early 1980's, serving two terms. Following his resignation from the Board, Joe began routinely volunteering, committing two hours each week to visiting patients on the fifth, sixth and seventh floors at St. Paul's. "I didn't care who they were," Joe says. "We are all human, and if they were confined to a hospital bed, I wanted to be able to offer them someone to talk to – if they wished."

In November 2012, Joe was honoured at Saskatoon's National Philanthropy Day event, recognized for his generous volunteer support of St. Paul's Hospital. In addition to the aforementioned he has chaired the SPHF Planned Giving Advisory Committee, participated on the Embracing the Future campaign's Steering Committee, founded the Driving Fore Prostate Charity Golf Classic; and participated in several other fundraising initiatives. A very humble man, Joe LaPointe was reticent at acknowledging the recognition, stating that, "This isn't all about me; it's about all the volunteers out there who are not recognized."

We thank Joe LaPointe for making a difference in so many lives through his volunteer efforts at St. Paul's Hospital and with SPH Foundation.

"I am just grateful to be allowed the opportunity to be a volunteer. I support the spiritual component offered through St. Paul's Hospital, and definitely feel that the best part of my week is being here!"

Thank you to all who applied, and thank you also to our donors for recognizing the importance of our staff and the value in designating funds that provide additional educational tools to help them and us best meet our patients' needs.

"IT ALL ADDS UP" HENRY REMAI

A well-known educator in Saskatoon's Catholic school system, Henry Remai's commitment to excellence in math for students at Holy Cross High School spanned 26 years. Known to students as being kind, yet driven to challenge their learning, he was recognized with a Prime Minister's Award for Teachers, along with a Master Teacher Award from the Saskatchewan Mathematics Society.

Retired now, yet still keeping busy as a condo board treasurer and with travelling, Henry has generously chosen to support St. Paul's Hospital areas of greatest need, with a $10,000 gift through the Foundation.

"Relatives and friends have been cared for at St. Paul's over the years, and after my brother passed away in 2011; I decided it was time to give back," says Remai. "St. Paul's faith-based history also carried significance in my deciding to give to this Hospital."

Thank you Henry Remai, for supporting St. Paul's Hospital and thereby ensuring that the legacy of excellence in compassionate care continues for our community and beyond.
